[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 6.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March 6.—House to-day deliberated on the ad[illegible] Bill, and an amendment to the army appropriation bill. It provides that no money shall be paid the county for such services, and authorizing the Attorney General to institute suit at once for the recovery of about $600,000 already paid them by the War Department.

Mr. Schenck succeeded in having incorporated in the appropriation bill an amendment providing for $5,000 for the erection at West Point of a memorial tablet, and for inserting on it the rebel guns, the names of battles in which they were captured. The immediate necessity for this special appropriation was caused by Chief Engineer Delafield's recent letter to the Superintendent at West Point, prohibiting him from doing this lest it might wound the feelings of the Southern students.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—In Senate Morrill, from committee on commerce, reported a bill to establish a telegraph line between New York and West Indies.

The bill to reimburse Missouri expenses for equipping troops, passed.

Mr. Saulsbury, of Delaware, addressed the Senate against the Constitutional Amendment fixing the basis of representation.

House took up the bill to aid the construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad. It was twice read and referred to the committee.

Boutwell, of Massachusetts, from reconstruction committee, reported testimony taken relating to the condition of Arkansas, Mississippi, Georgia and Alabama. Ordered printed.

Schenck's amendment to the military appropriation bill forbidding the appointment of cadets from the late rebel States until those States have been restored by action of Congress, was adopted after a lengthy debate—80 to 30.

The military bill then passed.

The House went into committee of the whole on the bill regulating trade with the British North American provinces. A lengthy debate occurred, in which Messrs. Banks, Washburn, Elliott, Blair and Grinnell participated.

A lengthy message was received from the President in response to a resolution inquiring about the provisional governments in the lately rebellious States. Ordered printed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The President's message, transmitted to both houses in answer to a resolution of January 2d calling for copies of all messages, acts, ordinances, resolutions or legislation, qualification of voters in elections and any other information tending to throw light on the political condition of the lately rebellious States, is voluminous. He says an answer was delayed by the absence of Seward. He explains that Gov. Holden, of North Carolina, did not take the prescribed oath, but the omission was accidental. A dispatch to Governor Perry, of South Carolina, dated November 6th, declared that the President was not satisfied with the action of the convention, and that the legislation was inadequate. An act was necessary declaring all insurrectionary action unlawful and void. On November 9th, the Secretary telegraphed again that the early adoption of the amendment was deemed important by the President, who also regretted that neither the Convention nor the Legislature had pronounced the State debt incurred in aid of the rebellion, null and void. The State seemed to decline the acceptance of the Constitution on Dec. 28. The Secretary again telegraphed that the State had repudiated the rebel debt. Governor Perry declared that the State had passed the Constitutional amendment, and he hoped the doors would be opened to the members from South Carolina. On Nov. 27th he telegraphed that the Convention had adjourned, and, therefore, could take no action relative to the rebel debt. On Dec. 11th, Governor Perry announced that the government of South Carolina was complete, and that the people were loyal, and he asked the Government to withdraw the U. S. troops.

Fullerton, formerly on General Howard's staff, and notorious for a brief administration of the Freedmen's Bureau in Louisiana, has been appointed private Secretary to the President, and will enter upon his duties in about ten days.

It is too early to speculate as to the majority report in the upper House of Congress. There is a very decided objection to it on the part of many Union men. No day was fixed for its consideration, as there is great anxiety to dispose of the finance and appropriation bills. It is hoped these will not be called up before the middle of next week. Among the testimony submitted and accompanying the report is the evidence of Major General Thomas. He says he has studied the condition of Tennessee, and his opinion is that, if protected by a small Union force, the loyal sentiment would gain complete ascendancy in a short time. He don't think it would be safe at this time to remove the troops, withdraw martial law or restore the habeas corpus to the full extent. East Tennessee is perfectly safe. Middle Tennessee is disturbed by personal enmities and hatred much more than by disloyalty to the United States. The union sentiment is daily approaching a good loyal standard, and he thinks the feeling will go on improving. The Speaker laid before the House a communication from Governor Worth, of North Carolina, announcing the acceptance of lands donated for an agricultural college. The House refused to receive the communication, not recognizing any government in North Carolina.

The claim of the Illinois Central Railroad for compensation for the transportation of troops during the rebellion, received its death blow in the House.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In pursuance of the report of the Commissioners and Chief Engineer of the Pacific Railroad, the prevailing opinion is that the Company is entitled to the amount $64,000 or $32,000 per mile.

Secretary McCulloch is assured by several members of the Ways and Means Committee that as soon as the reciprocity matters are disposed of, the loan bill will be acted on and finished. He is also assured that Stevens' bill will not prevail.

The House Military Committee is not favorable to the revival of the grade of Generals, and probably no further action will be taken on it.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—In the Senate Wilson of Massachusetts, offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Judiciary committee to inquire what legislation is necessary to protect officers of the army from arrest by civil process for acts done in obedience to orders.

Davis, of Kentucky, offered a resolution for a standing committee on the abuses of power.

Sumner, of Massachusetts, addressed the Senate at length against the constitutional amendment fixing the basis of representation. He said the same sentiment which made the abolition of slavery a cause of gratitude, should make us repel with indignation this device to equalize and organize by law the disfranchisement of a whole race. It was with infinite respect he differed from valued friends about him, but he could not do otherwise.

Doolittle, of Wisconsin, followed in favor of reconstruction according to the constitution. The amendment was not necessary to prevent an undue proportion of Southern representatives, for the South had lost terribly during the war. She had lost a half million of whites, and more than a million of blacks.

The bill for the admission of Colorado was taken up and read a second time, and made the special order for Monday next.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—It is now stated that G. V. Fox, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, will not leave the Navy Department as announced a few days since, and that instead of accepting the Presidency of a new California Steamship Company he will go to Europe on an extended leave of absence.

Branch Pacific Railroad.

WASHINGTON, March 6th.—The House Committee on the Pacific Railroad has reported a bill granting lands to aid the construction of a railroad and telegraph from the Central Pacific Railroad in California to Portland, Oregon, or to the navigable waters of the Columbia, in Oregon. The grant is twenty sections per mile for one hundred miles northward, and for one hundred miles southward from the line between California and Oregon, and ten sections per mile for the balance of the line.

Report on the Tax on Spirits

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The special report of the Revenue Commissioner on the subject of distilled spirits is a very elaborate document, showing that the present tax of two dollars per gallon kills the legitimate manufacture, invites fraud and does not produce as much revenue as one dollar per gallon would.

The Question of Admitting the Tennessee Members. Another Veto to Come—The Breach grows wider.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Tennessee question continues to be the leading topic in Congress. In relation to the resolution reported on Monday, a delegation of Congressmen, supporters of the President, waited on him last evening, and received definite assurance that the resolution, if passed, would be vetoed. The President said he could not sign away his own citizenship by approving a resolution that declares Tennessee is out of the Union and needs the action of the law making power to get back. His veto may be expected when the bill fully passes, [illegible] for the quietness of the past ten days. All rumors about healing the breach between the President and Congress are fictitious. He may have sent private letters as reported to Sumner and Stevens regretting his personalities, but no olive branch appears in the political horizon.

Maynard and Stokes, of the Tennessee delegation, approve the Congressional plan. Stokes made a speech in Nashville the other day declaring that Congress should not admit the Southern representatives without mature deliberation, and was right in demanding the test oath, and in taking time to examine into the condition of Southern States. He said it seems to be regarded as a great crime that Congress did not let members right in, regardless of all questions, to draw pay and begin to legislate for the whole country, when half of these members [illegible] the rebel army. He said: "If I were in Congress I would vote against the repeal of the test oath till [illegible] seat. The Union men of Tennessee are particularly [illegible] in this matter because they are determined that none but original Union men shall vote in the State. They have the power in their own hands and mean to hold it, although they exclude from suffrage the rebels pardoned by the President. If a division be between the President and Congress should come on the pending resolution the Unionists now in power in Tennessee would be pretty sure to go against the President.

Congress on the Trade with the British Provinces.

The House debated the bill regulating trade with the British Provinces. It was supported by western and lumber interests. Kelly of Pennsylvania said the proposition might be entitled a bill to destroy the fisheries, salt manufacture and lumber trade of the United States, and to prevent the working of any bituminous coal beds east of the Allegheny Mountains. It would cut off all those great branches of industry. Brooks of New York said it was impossible to effect the same duties on an extended frontier as on the seaboard; therefore, commerce demanded special rates and parties, if not a complete reciprocity. The test vote upon striking out the enacting clause stood ayes 68, noes 63. Morrill said he perceived by the temper of the House that the present bill was likely to be lost. He had been an earnest and early advocate of the termination of the reciprocity treaty, but the House had advanced very much beyond his sentiments.

He warned gentlemen that if this bill did not pass, horses, sheep, cattle and hogs produced in Canada would come in here free of duty after the 17th of March, by smuggling. It would be unfortunate for the country if the bill did not pass in some form. The Secretary of the Treasury, in accordance with an act of Congress relating to importation of foreign cattle and hides, has determined to allow importation from countries other than Europe. The cattle disease does not seem to be prevalent elsewhere.

The House bill increasing the regular army does not accept any recommendations of the late conference of Generals. It provides that the army shall be made up mostly of volunteers. The Veteran Reserve Corps and several negro regiments are to be retained. It provides for a Board of Examination of officers, to be made up of a majority of volunteer officers.

Matters Relating to Division of Virginia.

Both Houses of Congress have passed a resolution completing the transfer of Berkley and Jefferson counties from Old Virginia to West Virginia. Meanwhile the Richmond Legislature has appointed Commissioners to visit the Wheeling Legislature in behalf of re union, or at least to endeavor to negotiate for the assumption of part of the old State debt.

A New Freedmen's Bureau Bill.

The House Select Committee of Freedmen this morning reported a new Freedmen's Bureau bill. It continues the act under which the present bureau was organized for three years, allows the appointment of two additional Assistant Commissioners, under direction of the President, and when the same shall be necessary, divides the various districts into sub-districts, and provides for the appointment of agents for the same.

The bill retains that section of the vetoed bill which set apart three million acres of public lands in Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Arkansas, for sale to freedmen. The Sea Island section has been changed, but it provides that the present occupants shall not be disturbed for three years from the date of General Sherman's field orders, unless provision be made for them with their written consent and the approval of the commissioners. Military protection is extended all over the States lately in rebellion, with respect to all cases involving the rights of the freedmen, till the ordinary course of judicial proceedings shall be restored, and the States shall be represented in Congress.

On Woodbridge's resolution, offered in the House March 5th, that the United States guarantee a fifty million loan to the republic of Mexico, all the Pacific members voted ayes except McRuer, not present.

Garret Davis made a speech in the Senate the other day declaring that we might see in this land two bodies, one composed of Southern Representatives and Senators and Democratic and conservative members from the North, and the other of Republican members alone. Each of these bodies would claim to be the Congress, and the President would be obliged to recognize one or the other. As the former body would be a majority, why would the President recognize it as the lawful and legitimate Congress of the United States? Davis said he believed Jackson would have done this, and he hoped Johnson would invite the Southern members elect to the city to unite with the other men he had designated, and recognize them as the Congress.

Boutwell and Washburne submitted their minority report from the reconstruction committee, that a further condition be added to the admission of Tennessee and that in regulating the franchise no distinction be made on account of race or color.

The House committee on Foreign relations will hear arguments in favor of the resolutions guaranteeing the Mexican loan.

Both Houses have passed a resolution for paying Miss Clara Barton $15,000, the amount she expended in prosecuting the search for missing soldiers.

The resolution adopted by Congress providing that hereafter the vignette of no living person shall be placed upon the fractional currency was passed in consequence of the removal of the vignette of Washington from the last issue of five cent notes, and putting in its place that of Spencer M. Clarke, the person in charge of the Note Printing Bureau of the Treasury Department. The act was done on the latter's sole responsibility.

The recommendation of the Controller of the Currency for an increase of $100,000,000 in the amount of the National Bank Currency was rejected in the House—ayes, 17, noes, 117, one of the most decisive votes of the session.

In the House, Higby of California, on leave, introduced a bill granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners in California over public lands.

Wilson of Iowa introduced a bill providing that hereafter the Supreme Court shall consist of the Chief Justice and eight Associates. Passed. Wilson remarked that he should be glad to make further regulations as to vacancies occurring.

The House proceeded to the consideration of the Senate bill to protect all persons in their civil rights. After debate, Wilson of Iowa, demanded the previous question. On a motion to re-commit, which being seconded, the question was postponed till to-morrow.

KANSAS.—The New York Tribune has the following special dispatch, dated Topeka, Kansas, February 21:

"Yesterday the Senate bill appropriating the 50,000 acres of land was defeated in the House. The Federal resolutions indorsing President Johnson's policy were laid on the table, with two dissenting votes. This morning concurrent resolutions were introduced into the House, asking Congress to submit an amendment of the Constitution prohibiting the re-election of the President."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 12, 1866.

UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The voters of the several counties of Oregon who have been and are in favor of maintaining the supremacy of the Union, the Constitution and the laws of the United States, against all opposition, are respectfully invited to hold Conventions according to the usual custom, for the election of Delegates to a Union State Convention, to be held at Corvallis on the 29th day of March, 1866, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Governor, Member of Congress, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and State Printer. We respectfully recommend the holding of County Conventions throughout the State on Saturday, the 17th day of March, 1866, at which time Delegates to the State Convention can be selected. It is also recommended that the precinct meetings be held on Saturday, the 10th day of March. Delegates to the State Convention from each Judicial District, assembled at the time of holding said Convention, will nominate candidates for Judge and Prosecuting Attorney, where vacancies exist. The several counties are entitled to send Delegates to the State Convention as follows:

I. R. MOORES,
Chairman Union State Central Committee.

W. C. WHITNEY, Secretary.

Three Quarters of a Year Ago.

About the first of May, 1865, within two weeks after Andrew Johnson assumed the office and duties of President of the United States, he delivered a speech to a concourse of his friends at Washington, in which the following expressions occur:

"The true idea is to regard them (the insurgent States) as States whose life-breath only has been in suspension. If a State is to be nursed until it regains strength, it must be nursed by its friends, not smothered by its enemies. The work of restoring a State must pass into the hands of the friends of the Union."

Here the doctrine is distinctly set forth by the President himself that the old constitutions and laws of the insurgent States were placed in abeyance by the rebellion. The plan the President has acted upon and carried out, has rested wholly on the assumption that the old constitutions of those States were invalidated or destroyed. By presidential proclamations new governments have been called into existence, and the people have been convened to frame constitutions which should embody certain principles prescribed by the President himself. The Executive has dealt with this question in this view, viz: that these old State governments were so effectually overthrown that they could not be revived in their former vigor, and that it became the duty of the United States to guarantee to each State a republican form of government, to see that they adopted new constitutions which should recognize and conform to the condition in which they were left by the war. Congress takes the same view of this question which the President enunciated last May. "The life-breath of those States was suspended" by the rebellion. The State governments, as both the President and Congress affirm, were temporarily lost and were to be restored, not under their former constitutions, but under constitutions differing essentially from those which existed before the rebellion. The fourth section of the fourth article of the Constitution of the United States declares that the United States shall guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of Government. With whom does the right reside of deciding that such State governments are republican in form? The President takes it on himself to decide this matter. He has made those States' constitutions what they are, (except as to the abolition of slavery which the Emancipation Proclamation required), and in assuming to decide that they meet the requirements of the Constitution, he has exercised a right which has hitherto been left to Congress, and which has been exercised by the legislative branch of the Government as often as new States have been admitted into the Union. The President declares that certain States, by the conduct of their people, have forfeited their rights under the Government of the United States. He then proceeds on the idea that himself is the sole judge of the time and conditions on which these rights may be restored and the States permitted to resume their relations with the Government.

Congress is not satisfied that the time is yet at hand for safe restoration. It does not believe that the mere cessation of war on the part of the rebels qualifies them at once to resume and exercise full political powers. Congress holds the doctrine announced some months ago by the President that "the work of restoring a State should pass into the hands of the friends of the Union." This work has been suffered to pass into the hands of the enemies. Should Congress admit the Southern delegations, reconstruction on a disloyal basis would be complete. In standing by Congress at this time, we simply stand on the principles which were laid down only three-quarters of a year ago by President Johnson.

"NORTHERN TRAITORS." Several times of late the President has denounced certain Union men of the North as "traitors." In view of the fact that many of these men fought with the brave army which rescued the President's own State from the rebels, this charge is not very kind or considerate. The crime of these "Northern traitors" consists in their having ventured to express opinions different from those held by his offended and irate Excellency. Wonder if the President will be merciful enough to "pardon" the "Northern traitors" of whom he talks so much? Or is their crime so much greater than that of R. E. Lee and A. H. Stephens as to shut them out from all hope of Executive clemency? An Administration paper, one of the Oregon Statesman's ilk, says that Andrew Johnson's declaration that "treason is to be made odious," must be verified by the punishment of Sumner, Stevens, Wade and others who oppose the admission into Congress of such incorruptible patriots as the Confederate Generals and statesmen who are now lingering about the White House. We are not surprised to hear talk of this kind; if the rebellion had triumphed, every prominent Northern man would have been dragged to the gallows long ago.

VIOLATIONS OF THE REVENUE LAWS.—There is a case on trial in the United States District Court in this city, where the party is charged with perjury, in making false returns of income. It has been submitted to two different juries, the first of which divided, half for conviction and half for acquittal, the second standing eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. Each jury being unable to agree was discharged and we suppose a third jury will have to be called.

We call attention to the case because we understand the defense of the party charged does not deny the falsity of his returns, but pleads an innocent error committed in hastily making them up for the Assessor. We hear, also, that it has been used as an argument against conviction, that the rule which should convict in this case, might be used against the greater part of the business men of the State. To use the most charitable expression, the falsity of the returns in the case on trial, occurred through gross carelessness, and if be true as stated, that such carelessness is almost universal among business men, it is time the Revenue officers were making inquiry and complaint. The case under trial, whether conviction or acquittal follow, may well serve as a warning, at least, against carelessness.

The notice of the Union County Convention for Yamhill county, was sent us some days ago by private hands, but from the carelessness of the carrier, it did not reach us in time for the first edition of the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, of the 10th. It, however, appears in the second edition and in the DAILY of to-day.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MARCH 8.

Local Elections—Divorce of a Congressman's Wife.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Moore, editor of the Rural New-Yorker—radical Republican—was elected Mayor of Rochester yesterday, by 1651 majority.

Richardson—Republican—was elected Mayor of Oswego.

Col. McQuade—Republican—was elected Mayor of Utica.

The wife of John A. Kasson, member of Congress, has obtained a divorce in the Warren County Court, Iowa, the defendant pleading guilty to the allegation of adultery. Mrs. Kasson is a daughter of Thos. Elliott, member of Congress from Missouri.

The Tennessee Legislative Dead-Lock.

The Tennessee Legislature is practically dissolved. On the 5th of March the Senate met and only six members were present. In the House, twenty Representatives present. This state of affairs is expected to last five or six weeks. Brownlow's proclamation declaring vacant the seats of members who did not resign, is a grand movement that troubles the disorganizers.

Arrest of a Thief—The Government gets after the Rogues.

NEW YORK, March 6.—L. Cohen, clerk for Duncan, Sherman & Co., was arrested for abstracting $4000 in U.S. bonds deposited by travelers abroad as collateral for letter of credit. Cohen confessed his guilt, and says that he has been engaged in ruinous stock speculations. Extensive frauds having been perpetrated on the revenue, by lager-beer brewers of this city and Brooklyn. The Government has instituted rigid inquiry, which occasions a panic among the suspected.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Secretary of the Treasury has ordered an action to be entered against General R. D. Mussey, late private Secretary of the President, to recover $25,000, alleged to have been abstracted from the recruiting service while on duty at Nashville.

Precautions against the Cholera—Gold.

NEW ORLEANS, March 6.—A quarantine of 25 days is declared on all vessels arriving from the West India Islands, to prevent the introduction of cholera.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Gold is without decided change, closing at 133¼.

The steamship Cuba to-day takes out $21,680, chiefly bullion, brought by the last Aspinwall steamer.

Union Convention of Pennsylvania—Presidential Interest in the Coming Elections.

HARRISBURG, March 7.—The Union State convention met to-day and organized; Lewis temporary president; adjourned to 5 P. M.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The President takes the liveliest interest in the coming elections in Connecticut and New Hampshire, and there are good reasons for believing that his sentiments are expressed in the following from one of his confidential advisers, the Postmaster General, addressed to Patterson, member of Congress: "I have never intimated to any postmaster in your State or elsewhere how I would like him to vote, and never expect to do so, as long as I remain in my present official position; nor have I intimated to any Republican postmaster that to vote the Republican ticket would be followed by removal from office, or act to his prejudice in any way. To do so would imply a purpose on my part to dissolve my connection with the Union Republican party which I have never entertained. It is a possibility which I cannot imagine. I believe the interest and glory of the country essentially depends upon the vigorous maintenance of the success of the Union Republican party and its continued control of the Government, and hence I never expect to act with any other political organization as long as it exists."

Estimated Result of New Hampshire Election—Canadian Military Movement.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Union Executive Committee of New Hampshire, usually correct in their estimates, publish the following: Governor Smith, 36,500; Sinclair, democrat, 30,500.

TORONTO, March 8.—The Provisional Government has called for 10,000 volunteers to be stationed along the frontier to guard against Fenian raids. The call creates great excitement. The rally to arms somewhat resembles the American furore.

An Unsuccessful Mission.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The New York Post says Bishop Staley, of Honolulu, now en route to the Pacific, has been prevented from gaining the object of his mission to the Atlantic States. He obtained nothing beyond barren courtesies, abundant proof having been placed before the public that he went to the Sandwich Islands as an English emissary, to promote the interests of England in antagonism to those of the United States, in hope of alienating them from the United States, and securing possession of Great Britain.

Copperhead State Convention of Pennsylvania—Death of Dr. Jayne.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Pennsylvania Democratic Convention on March 5th nominated Heister Clymer, of Berks county, for Governor, on the 4th ballot, over George W. Cass, President of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad. The resolutions declare that the States whereof the people were lately in rebellion, are integral parts of the Union and entitled to representation in Congress by men duly elected, who bear true faith to the Constitution and laws, and such representatives should be forthwith admitted; that the bold annunciation of a policy of restoration contained in the recent annual message of President Johnson, and his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, entitle him to the confidence and support of all who respect the Constitution and love their country; that each State has an exclusive right to regulate the qualifications of its own electors; that the white race alone are entitled to control the Government, and we are unwilling to grant negroes the right to vote. Clymer accepted the nomination in a speech saying the nation was in peril, and the Democracy must rally to the support of the President, who has appealed in terms of patriotic devotion to his whole country.

Dr. David Jayne, of Philadelphia, an eminent chemist, died March 5th, aged 67, leaving property valued at several millions.

Mexican News.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Mexican advices say the Belgian troops refuse to serve under Mendez, who shot Arteaga, not daring if Belgian prisoners should be shot in retaliation. Marshal Bazaine wanted to make an example of them, but the Emperor interfered. The Belgians say they are willing to go home in disgrace.

An Underground Railroad in Broadway, New York.

It is considered quite certain that the New York Legislature will, during the present session, pass some form of bill for an underground railroad in Broadway.

Affairs in South America.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Buenos Ayres advices of January 24th say both belligerents were engaged in preparations for an active campaign in Paraguay, which was expected to commence in about a month. The allied armies were still being reinforced, and have about 45,000 men at Paso de la Platte.

The Brazilian Government was firm in demanding the expulsion of Lopez as the first basis of any peace negotiations. Lopez has put all men capable of bearing arms in the field. The Brazilian fleet of fifteen gunboats, was at Corrientes awaiting high water in the Paraguay river.

Foreign News.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The steamer City of New York has arrived with Liverpool dates to February 21st, and Queenstown dates to the 22d. The suspension of the habeas corpus in Ireland was received with universal approbation. The vigor shown by the Government had a favorable effect. The act authorized the arrest and detention until March 1st, 1867, of any person implicated in the conspiracy. The police are making a large number of arrests, including American emissaries. The military are being strongly reinforced. Order continues to be maintained, and all supposed to belong to the order of Dublin arrested.

A bill passed the House of Lords authorizing the Government to take possession of the telegraph wires of Ireland, if necessary.

A reform bill has been introduced into the House of Commons extending the franchise to all males over 21 years of age.

Gladstone declined to shed any light on what the Government proposed to do.

There was a message from the Queen presented to both Houses, asking that provision be made for the Princess Helena's approaching marriage and for Prince Alfred on coming of age.

The Bank of England had reduced the rate of discount to 7 per cent.

LONDON, Feb. 22—Consols for money, 87⅛@87⅜; United States 5-20s, 69¾@69⅞.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The Jura brings Liverpool advices to Feb. 25th.

Consols closed on the 25th at 87 and 87⅛, in steady demand. Five-twenties leave off at 69¾ and 69 3-4—the highest price touched for some time. Bourse flat; rentes 69f and 32 cents. The weekly returns from the Bank of England, shows an increase of bullion to the amount of 702,621 pounds.

A revolution had broke out in Roumania. Prince Couza was forced to abdicate, and the Count of the Flanders was proclaimed hospodar.

In the House of Commons, Feb. 23d, Labouchere called attention to the neutrality laws and argued in favor of revision. The Attorney-General admitted the importance of the question, but defended the course of the Government during the American war. Watkins asked if the representations had been made to the American Government in relation to the Fenian proceedings. Gladstone regretted that the subject had been brought up. He said that the Government's knowledge of those proceedings would justify representations, but he believed the public opinion in America condemned the movements. It would be undignified to remonstrate, so long as no public act was committed.

The cattle plague was increasing.

The last weekly returns show that the Banks of France had reduced the rate of discount. The Russian Government suddenly closed the chambers.

The proceedings of the parties who are in opposition to the Government, tend towards strife. This action was quite unexpected.

ANNUAL INCOME, all Cash, over $3,500,000
PAID CLAIMS, by Death, over $6,500,000
RECEIPTS from Interest alone $5,000,000

THE OLDEST AND LARGEST LIFE INSURANCE CO. In the United States!

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF POLICY ISSUED. ALL POLICIES ARE NON-FORFEITABLE.

Dividends are declared Annually—which can be applied as Cash in reducing the yearly premium commencing on the second year, or towards buying more insurance.

The last Dividend (Feb. 1st, 1866) was nearly double in amount and in proportion to premiums paid than was ever declared in the same space of time by any other Company in the world.

EXAMPLES OF DIVIDENDS ON POLICIES ISSUED IN 1864.

Am't Policy.	Am't Dividends.	Am't Premiums Paid.
$10,000 00	$575 00	$353 00
10,000 00	589 02	304 40
5,000 00	197 59	111 40
3,000 00	118 43	66 84
1,000 00	62 04	25 82

EXAMPLES OF POLICIES PAID BY THE COMPANY.

Original Am't Policy.	Dividend Additions.	Total Am't Pd.
$10,000 00	$6,920 09	$16,920 09
5,000 00	3,278 43	8,278 43
4,000 00	2,380 53	6,380 53
1,000 00	1,508 39	2,508 39

N. B.—Particular attention is requested to the advantages afforded by the payment of the premiums, on both Life and Endowment assurance policies, in TEN ANNUAL INSTALLMENTS. The rates of such premiums charged by this Company are lower, while the dividends are greater, than in any other life company in the United States. As an additional inducement, the Company will, on surrender of such policy, issue a paid-up policy for an equitable sum, which they will guarantee SHALL EXCEED the proportionate amount.

For instance, on surrender of a policy for $10,000 (other amounts in the same proportion,) on which the premiums are payable in ten annual instalments, the Company will issue a PAID-UP POLICY which they will guarantee

After the payment of 2 premiums SHALL EXCEED $2000
" 3 " " 3000

And so on. On the Five Year Life Plan the pro rata is double.

ENDOWMENT POLICIES are issued payable to the assured at death or any age between 40 and 65, with full participation in the surplus of the Company, thus combining Life Insurance with a safe and profitable investment.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION is called to the Table of Rates by Ten Annual Installments for "Endowments," issued by this Company, which present UNEQUALED ATTRACTIONS, EITHER AS AN INVESTMENT OR PROVISION IN CASE OF PREMATURE DEATH, for it is now universally conceded that aside from the Life Insurance which is combined with the Policy, that there is no way of investing small installments in so safe and highly advantageous a manner, as it gives the assured the entire benefits of an increased capital and well regulated Financial Institution. To parties in business 'tis invaluable, and by many is considered an actual necessity for present purposes ALONE, for aside from its many other advantages it constitutes the VERY FINEST FORM OF COLLATERAL UPON which to borrow or convert into cash in cases of emergency, which can be readily accomplished, and pay a far greater sum than has been expended on the Policy—inasmuch as from the first it shares in the immense dividends of the Company—and is non-forfeitable for a full proportionate amount of the entire policy for each and every year's premium paid thereon. The above class of Policy is attracting much attention throughout the United States. THOUSANDS who have heretofore declined insuring are now rapidly availing themselves of its benefits, as the marvelous rate of increase in the assets of this Company will attest. The cash assets of this Company alone, exceed in amount the total cash assets of the other sixteen companies combined, incorporated in the State of New York, while the CASH dividends for the last two years were nearly double that ever declared by any other Company.

Parties desirous to insure should start in at once to SECURE A FULL GROSS DIVIDEND to be declared February 1st, 1867. Apply to E. L. SHANNON, Agent, At office of R. GLISAN, M. D., Medical Examiner of the Company, No. 95 Front street, up stairs. feb20d3ptf

DANCING —Dancing is perhaps the oldest and most natural of the fine arts and has been in vogue, in greater or less perfection, from the earliest times—equal among savage and civilized nations. Amongst many it is both a social recreation and religious exercise. In America the people as a class, are perhaps more given to dancing than in other countries; and, although [illegible] of such remote origin balls are more [illegible]. The re-unions of America come nearest to the gatherings of the ancient Greeks than other assemblies where [illegible] and gentlemen meet to dance, chat and be seen. [illegible] than that here on the north western border of the American Union we often are seen largely in [illegible] public balls on the celebration of anniversaries, inaugurations, &c., since the practice is so common [illegible] country presents a record without its public assemblies for re-union and better acquaintance in society. For the purpose of instructing young ladies and [illegible] in the art of dancing a school has been in [illegible] operation in this city the past winter under the direction of Mr Cardinell. On Thursday evening a [illegible] was given by the scholars for the benefit [illegible]. We were present and have no hesitation [illegible] our opinion that the school has been [illegible] of much accomplishment. The Lanciers quadrille, one of the most beautiful figures ever danced, was done in a very handsome manner. The polka, mazourka, and other excellent and popular dances were equally as well performed. The school will shortly be [illegible] and the small charge should not be allowed to [illegible] from attending as it is far better to be there than [illegible] worse places, spending money for more [illegible].

[illegible]—A Chinaman was knocked down on the [illegible] at the intersection of Washington and Front [illegible] by a horse and buggy and both the wheels of the [illegible] side of the vehicle passed over him, the hind wheel [illegible] the head and sadly disarranging his toga. His [illegible] down, and came in contact with the stones of the [illegible] road, but he was not dangerously hurt. The [illegible] partly through carelessness on the [illegible] driver of the buggy, and partly on account of [illegible] were beyond the control of the driver [illegible] turning towards Washington street at [illegible] down Front, and on the inside was a [illegible]. The buggy came along at a little [illegible] of speed than is allowed, and to prevent running [illegible] team of the loaded wagon, was crowded [illegible]. All the pedestrians, except the [illegible], saw the situation and did not venture [illegible] looking in the wrong direction to see the [illegible] and met his fate. The buggy was stopped in a [illegible] and when it was known that the Chinaman [illegible] hurt, [illegible] went on. There is almost every [illegible] from such incidents. Front street [illegible] in the city that people can travel on [illegible] is crowded from morning till [illegible]. [illegible] are not safe places for pedestrians [illegible] always be as careful as possible, and prevent [illegible] No. 1.

[illegible]—J. J. HOFFMAN, J —Saturday, [illegible] Ulrich and Oelie Levy were [illegible] of selling liquor at the Bella Union. There are two licenses yet in [illegible] of this place. The one granted [illegible] Council refused to transfer to Mr [illegible] they took out license, and we think it [illegible] in this case were acting [illegible] were fined and... Frank Doff was proven to be one of those [illegible] are a curse to society, and [illegible] in Oregon City, where he [illegible] the Court was that he remain a term in [illegible] needs some every [illegible] to apply to [illegible] offenders do not get their [illegible] house should be his castle, but in [illegible] subjected to the [illegible] insults by [illegible] a malaise. [illegible] but bearing no relation to the [illegible] guilty of flourishing a revolver in the [illegible] fined to twenty days' board [illegible] of the city.

[illegible]—We have never seen, at the Willamette [illegible] audience than assembled [illegible] of the complimentary [illegible] of our [illegible] was well and [illegible] the same that greeted her on that even[illegible] fed [illegible] dared in excellent style, [illegible] we would like to see an entire [illegible] of fairly and profitably. The only [illegible] to make the theatrical business pay in this [illegible] people to go to. The old building [illegible] is a mere shell, unsuited for any class [illegible] and there can be no profit for any [illegible] how good a company he may have, to [illegible]. The orchestra by the orchestra, [illegible] Saturday night, [illegible] by Profs [illegible], who one of those [illegible] intended to draw plaudits from an [illegible] and we certainly felt a pride in [illegible] city one boast of a talent equal to [illegible] place in the country. The [illegible] and violin, by [illegible] Hoeler [illegible] were beautiful. The [illegible] received with rounds of applause [illegible] twice encored. We hope we [illegible] her on a [illegible] stage, [illegible] in Portland.

[illegible]—We were at Oregon City [illegible] the steamer Reliance came into the [illegible] G. Wetherd [illegible] and we judge he makes a very [illegible] he is capable to do almost anything [illegible] The Reliance had on [illegible] 50 head of horses, and 100 tons of [illegible] was ready to come on to Portland, [illegible] on board a full cargo with no[illegible] up of the Fleet, and both steamers [illegible] place. The Active also arrived well [illegible] Albert was obliged to make an extra [illegible] City to Salem, starting yesterday. Two [illegible] Portland and Echo, left Oregon City [illegible] Saturday, well loaded with freight and [illegible] of operation has been to greatly [illegible] on the Willamette, and although it [illegible] the present rates are ruinous to the [illegible] by a combination of the interests of [illegible] much money might be [illegible], by the [illegible] and business [illegible] as by one company alone.

[illegible]—The M[illegible] have [illegible] in another column, [illegible] to the notice of the public. We [illegible] upon this firm as sure to succeed in the business [illegible] which they are engaged, as they have a spirit of [illegible] which is the life, and cannot fail to [illegible]. Their stock has always been [illegible] and is a rule, they do not allow a [illegible] to go away [illegible]. Mr L. Berman, the junior partner, [illegible] to [illegible] for [illegible] it will be [illegible] and [illegible] will be the [illegible] will bring with [illegible] but be appre[illegible].

We trust the fears are groundless, and that [illegible] at her destination.

[illegible]—D. SHATTUCK J Saturday, March [illegible] Henry Wagner, found guilty of assault, [illegible] weapon, sentenced to six months [illegible] the penitentiary.... The case of R. J Ladd [illegible] officers, did not [illegible], and the jury [illegible], and case continued until next term [illegible] term of court, in disregarding [illegible] certain street improvements at Ore[illegible] paid a fine. The trial jury was dismissed and [illegible] to meet this morning at 10 o clock, when [illegible] will be [illegible].

[illegible]—John Atwood was arrested by [illegible] Hoyt, on Saturday last, for indulging in the in[illegible] from the roof of a building, of throwing [illegible] of mortar on the heads of pedestrians on the side[illegible]. The boys of this city have frequently partaken of [illegible] kind of innocent amusement, but have not been be[illegible]. In this case Marshal Hoyt's attention was [illegible] to the matter, and by watching for a moment the [illegible] was detected by him. Chinamen are the [illegible] butt of their jokes, but on this last occasion a [illegible] and one or two children, of a [illegible] ality more [illegible] were the recipients of the ' fun."

[illegible]—The popular hotel on the corner of Washington and First streets, known as the Empire Hotel and [illegible], has lately been refitted and refurnished [illegible] and is now in good order for the [illegible] accommodation [illegible]. We have had ample evidence to convince [illegible] that the "[illegible]" is abundantly calculated for a first-class house. The table is well supplied, and the traveling [illegible] will find it a pleasant and convenient stopping place. The card of Mr A S Crabb appears in another [illegible] and the thanks of this establishment are returned [illegible] kind remembrance last evening in the shape of a [illegible] collation.

DEATH.—Mr Hiram Werner for some time a much [illegible] citizen of this place, acting as guard at the [illegible] died recently at Oregon City. He leaves [illegible] in New York and Michigan, and the papers of [illegible] are requested to notice his death. He was [illegible] at thirty years.

THE VANCOUVER FESTIVAL —We are informed that a [illegible] will leave the Lincoln House wharf in this city on [illegible] evening, to convey Good Templars and others [illegible] desire to attend the festival at Vancouver [illegible] at the close of the evening's entertainment. This [illegible] an opportunity to send a full dele[illegible].

[illegible] AND TROUT —On Saturday last the steamer [illegible] to this city, from Oregon City the first [illegible] of the season, a few being captured by the [illegible] from Indians fishing at that place. We were fortunate enough to lay violent hands on a fine trout that [illegible] to be in the same basket.

[illegible] RATES.—The rates of freight by the [illegible] Nevada were $7 per ton on her trip of [illegible] was somewhat lower than before the [illegible] of the steamship Montana, to cope for a portion of the [illegible].

[illegible] dispatches on first page

Washington Territory Items

The press and material of the Seattle Gazette have been purchased by Ike M Hall & Co who propose to issue a new paper to be called the Puget Sound Semi Weekly. The Gazette closed its career with the issue of the 3d inst. The Semi Weekly is to make its first appearance on the 20th.

A company was organized a few days since at Olympia for the purpose of working upon a quartz lode situated in the Cascades. The Company is making appropriations to commence work on the 1st of April.

Mr A H Sheffield has started a match factory (lucifer not conjugal) at Vancouver. The Register's editor has tried them and says they are honestly made and go every time."

The District Court for the 2d Judicial District begins a regular session at Vancouver, to day. About half a dozen criminal cases are on the docket.

The Good Templars of Vancouver are to have a festival, on the evening of the 14th inst. The 14th Infantry band, of course is to be in attendance.

There is to be a "grand ball" at the Alla House Vancouver March 16th.

The Register says the colors of the 1st W T Infantry have been turned over by Capt Knox to the Territorial authorities, on the requisition of the Secretary.

The laws of the late session of the Legislature of Washington Territory will be out in pamphlet form some time this month.

A general court martial recently convened at Fort Vancouver, tried thirteen soldiers of the 14th Infantry of whom only two were acquitted. One man, for assaulting a Sergeant was sentenced "to be confined at hard labor in charge of the guard, wearing a 24 pound ball attached to his leg by a chain, for 12 calendar months, and forfeit $10 per month of his monthly pay to the United States for the same period."

State Items

The Reporter states that some late prospects have been found in the quartz lode discovered by Devine and Funk, which are astonishing. The lode is a very wide one, consisting of three strata of rock, differing in apparent character, but all containing silver in large proportion as the tests applied certainly determine. Specimens are to be sent to Portland and San Francisco, for careful and accurate assay.

Two sisters of Hon. James D Fay have recently arrived from South Carolina, where they resided during the rebellion. They have joined their brother at Jacksonville.

The store of Daniel A Syron & Brother of Yam hill county, was entered by a burglar on the evening of the 1st inst. and robbed of $150 in coin and $50 in greenbacks. The proprietor and clerk had gone to supper, when the villain, taking advantage of their absence, effected an entrance by raising the floor in the rear of the counter. No clue whatever has been obtained of the robber.

An attempt at robbery was made by two footpads, on Jackson creek, Jackson county, a few days since. Meeting two citizens "by moonlight alone," they demanded their money, but the citizens couldn't see it in that light, and drawing their revolvers, put the scoundrels incontinently to flight.

The Sentinel says the people of Douglas county have discovered symptoms of petroleum.

The Masonic Lodges of Southern Oregon are reported to be in a very flourishing condition.

Victoria Items.

Our files of Victoria papers are to the 5th inst. The people of the colonies are reported to be in a state of some excitement about rumors of the success of the Union scheme, and of a change in the colonial administration.

The Colonist says it is reported the new propeller California will take the place of the Active on the next trip.

The opposition between the Active and Labouchere is very lively. The latter had reduced the fare to $20 in cabin, and $10 in steerage, when the Active came down to $10 and $5. If the Labouchere comes down to these figures, the Active would reduce them still lower.

The Labouchere which sailed on the 3d inst. to San Francisco, took a large shipment of English news paper for the California market.

RICHMOND ARROGANCE. The following paragraph from the Richmond Examiner sounds very much like the arrogance and self conceit constantly paraded in the Southern newspapers previous to the rebellion. If it was offensive then, it is doubly so now, while it is at the same time a lamentable evidence of the utter hopelessness of all attempts to teach the men who conduct the majority of the Southern journals common sense:

"It would be immeasurably the worst consequence of our defeat in this war, that the South should lose its moral and intellectual distinctiveness as a people, and cease to assert its well known superiority in civilization, in political scholarship, and in all the standards of individual character, over the people of the North. That superiority has been recognized by every foreign observer, and by the intelligent everywhere for it is the South that in the past produced four-fifths of the political literature of America and furnished the list of names best known in Europe, either for commanding statesmanship or for personal virtue. That superiority the war has not conquered or lowered, and the South will do right to claim and to cherish it."

JOHNSON DEMOCRATS —On the evening of the 28th ult the Copperheads of San Francisco had a grand pow wow in honor of President Johnson. Secessionists of the most violent class controlled the meeting. The resolutions were furnished by B. F Washington editor of that infamous Copperhead sheet, the Examiner. The following resolution we give as a sample. It seems to be framed in accordance with the President's idea of "making treason odious:"

Resolved, The American progress and civilization alike demand that friendly feelings should be cultivated between the North and the South; that their citizens should forgive and forget the wrongs of the past; that they should seek to soothe the asperities growing out of the war, that they should "let the dead past bury the dead," and shaking hands over the graves of common brothers and countrymen, pledge themselves to better understanding in the future.

CORRECTION —The following is the vote in the United States Senate on the resolution declaring against the admission of Southern members of Congress till their States shall be declared restored, as we find it in the Bulletin and Alta of the 5th inst. The dispatch to us contained some errors, as will be seen by comparison:

REBELS IN PARADISE —According to a statement of a newspaper correspondent writing from Vera Cruz Southern rebels who have emigrated to Mexico in hope of finding there another Paradise in exchange for their lost one are not quite all of them in a state of beatification. Many of them want to go home again and would go but for the ugly facts that they have no money to pay their expenses homeward and no clothes to appear in after they should get home shall they be lucky enough to reach that spot. Some are proposing to wait until warm weather sets in when the sartorial question will be a matter of secondary question. The writer addressed a piteous appeal to the Southern ladies in behalf of these suffering relics of chivalry. Your friends here he says are proud and spirited but they are in distress. They write home fine stories of this beautiful country this peaceful and happy land but still they want your assistance. They want money and they want clothes. If you have any of the latter to spare send them to Mexico to the care of Gen Price who is the Confederate father in Mexico.

IT WON'T CURE CONSUMPTION —Hall's Pulmonary Balsam is not recommended to cure Consumption but it will give more relief than any other remedy offer[ed] to the public and for all other Pulmonary and throat complications there is nothing equal to it.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Two Pictures

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER

In sky and wave the white clouds swam,
And the blue hills of Nottingham
Through gaps of leafy green
Across the lake were seen—

When, in the shadow of the ash
That dreams its dream in Attitash,
In the warm summer weather
Two maidens sat together

They sat and watched in idle mood
The gleam and shade of lake and wood—
The beach the keen light smote
The white sail of a boat—

Swan flocks of lilies shoreward lying
In sweetness not in music dying—
Hardhack and virgin's bower
And white-spiked clethra flower

With careless ears they heard the plash
And breezy wash of Attitash,
The wood-bird's plaintive cry,
The locust's sharp reply

And teased the while with playful hand,
The shaggy dog of Newfoundland,
Whose uncouth frolic spilled
Their baskets berry filled

Then one, the beauty of whose eyes
Was evermore a great surprise,
Tossed back her queenly head,
And, lightly laughing, said—

"No bridegroom's hand be mine to hold
That is not lined with yellow gold;
I tread no cottage floor;
I own no lover poor.

"My love must come on silken wings,
With bridal lights of diamond rings—
Not foul with kitchen smirch
With tallow dip for torch."

The other, on whose modest head
Was lesser dower of beauty shed,
With look for home-hearths meet,
And voice exceeding sweet,

Answered,—"We will not rivals be;
Take thou the gold, leave love to me;
Mine be the cottage small,
And thine the rich man's hall.

"I know, indeed, that wealth is good;
But lowly roof and simple food,
With love that hath no doubt,
Are more than gold without."

Behind the wild grape's tangled screen,
Beholding them, himself unseen,
A young man straying near,
The maidens chanced to hear

He saw the pride of beauty born,
He heard the red lips' words of scorn;
And like a silver bell,
That sweet voice answering well

"Why trust," he said, my foolish eyes?
My ears have pierced the fair disguise;
Who seeks my gold, not me,
My bride shall never be."

The supreme hours unnoted come;
Unfelt the turning tides of doom;
And so the maids laughed on,
Nor dreamed what Fate had done;

Nor knew the step was Destiny's
That rustled in the birchen trees,
As, with his life forecast
Anew, the listener passed.

Erelong by lake and rivulet side
The summer roses paled and died,
And Autumn's fingers shed
The maple's leaves of red.

Through the gold-hazed afternoon,
Alone, but for the diving loon,
The partridge in the brake,
The black duck on the lake,

Beneath the shadow of the ash
Sat man and maid by Attitash;
And earth and air made room
For human hearts to bloom.

Soft spread the carpets of the sod,
And scarlet-oak and golden rod
With blushes and with smiles
Lit up the forest aisles.

The mellow light, the lake aslant,
The pebbled margin's ripple-chant
Attempered and low-toned,
The tender mystery owned.

And through the dream the lovers dreamed
Its sweets stole in and soft lights streamed;
The sunshine seemed to bless
The air was a caress.

Not she who lightly scoffed was there,
With jewels in her midnight hair,
Her dark, disdainful eyes,
And proud lips worldly-wise;

But she who could for love dispense
With all its gilded accidents,
And trust her heart alone,
Found love and gold her own.

—Atlantic Monthly for February.

Why and Wherefore.

[From the Sacramento Union.]

He who wantonly assail the motives of others cannot justly complain if their own springs of action are subjected to scrutiny. President Johnson and Secretary Seward having attacked the motives of the Congressional majority and of all Union men who presume to resist their reconstruction of the rebellion, are, therefore, open to criticism in turn. Let us reconsider popular decisions respecting Andrew Johnson, and try to get at the real character and aims of the Southern politician who was so hastily accepted by the too generous people of the North as a martyr, a hero, a patriot and an earnest champion of free principles. When, in the dark days of dissolution, the Tennessee Senator, whose pro-slavery creed was as firmly grafted upon his nature as it was upon the soul of Calhoun and Yancey, stood forth as the advocate of the Union and opposed the revolutionary designs of Davis, Floyd, Benjamin, Cobb, and other Southern traitors, his position justly secured the sympathy of the loyal people, who, from that time until his elevation to the Presidency, looked upon him as one who had made great sacrifices upon the altar of his country—whose services in his own State deserved lasting remembrance. Faithful among the faithless found, honest, though rough and uncouth, brave and unflinching, ready to peril his life and property in the cause of the nation, who so worthy of loyal esteem and support as Andrew Johnson? For a democratic people, we run excessively to hero-worship. We must have our human idols and, spite of unnumbered warnings, we set them up and burn our incense before them, with most unstinted devotion. Here is a pregnant question: Was it single-hearted patriotism that prompted Andrew Johnson to cast his lot with the Union party instead of following the Confederate chivalry into rebellion? We may never be able to obtain a satisfactory answer; but as the President indorses the Southern leaders as perfectly sincere, trustworthy men, who ought to be admitted at once to share in the Government, perhaps it will not be regarded as very unfair to quote what one of the pinks of that party, the smart, erratic Wigfall, said of his probable motive in February, 1861. Johnson had declared that the Confederates were chronic office-seekers, and wanted to set up a Government of their own, in which they would have a perpetual monopoly of the high places. Wigfall replied as follows:

"What motive has the Senator for his course? If this Union were not dissolved, I do not suppose it would require a prophet to foretell that he never would get the vote of one of the cotton States, or of Virginia or Maryland, scarcely of his own, certainly of no other slaveholding State that I know of. But if Tennessee can be kept in the Union, and be made the tail end of the Black Republican Confederation, and Virginia and Maryland and North Carolina can be sloughed off with these other States, then, if the Senator's amendments to the Constitution shall be adopted, so that every alternate four years the candidate must be taken from the South, while he will be elected by the North, I think it not improbable the Senator from Tennessee might be President of the United States that were left. That is the way it looks; but if Tennessee goes out of this Union, 'Othello's occupation's gone!' When the people of Tennessee pass that ordinance, if they shall confederate with these other States, that Senator will have sworn to support any Constitution the last time during his natural life. He knows it, he feels it. His very life, therefore, depends upon keeping Tennessee in the Union. He charges these motives upon us. I retort them upon him and he knows that the retort is true. Men who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones. He has not been attacked or assailed by anybody. He made a speech that was personally offensive to every Southern State-rights man, to every Southern Democrat, a speech that was offensive to his section; a speech which caused his effigy to be shot, to be hung and to be burned in his own State I do not know by how many people. The speech has created but one feeling throughout the South. Senators here alluded briefly to some portions of it casually—made no set reply but he waits until those Senators have gone and then gets up and assails their private character, and gets up furthermore, and charges upon the entire Southern rights party the most unworthy motives in the course they have pursued. I say that, when these issues and facts are presented the American people will not believe that I, and others who are acting with me, desire a desolation of the Union to get office. I say, when it is presented to them I feel that the American people will come to the conclusion that the Senator from Tennessee does desire to keep Tennessee in the Union, as the last and only hope of future promotion."

Wigfall is not our witness. He doubtless expressed the opinion of Johnson's motive entertained by all the chivalry in the Senate. What had the uncouth and uncultured Tennesseean to gain by going with the Confederates? What mighty sacrifice did he make by refusing to follow them? The "gentlemen of the South" had such a contemptuous opinion of his character and abilities that he could have obtained nothing more than a Brigadier-General's commission or a seat in the Confederate Congress. An office-seeker and an office holder during nearly all the years of his manhood his consuming ambition was no less. He had already been named as a candidate for the Presidency. Upon declaring for the Union he immediately became the most conspicuous and the most available candidate in the South if the Government should triumph. He was a Senator. He passed from the Senate into the position of Military Governor of Tennessee and retained it despite the office until he was nominated by the Seward influence for the Vice Presidency? Where was the sacrifice? The Nashville speech to the negroes which he has since repudiated in word but not was not delivered until a late period of the contest and was evidently a mere electioneering harangue—a bid for Radical support. But he as he knew, being the first choice of the other wing of the Union party. Elected to the Vice Presidency his path to the higher position was cleared by J. Wilkes Booth. This should have been sufficient to satisfy the ambition of a man of such humble origin and narrow capacity. He was President. The Southern rebellion was suppressed. The chivalry were at the feet of the man they had hated and despised. Andrew Johnson, the "poor white," had fought out his life long quarrel with the aristocracy and won the battle. But there is deplorable evidence in the present condition of things that, far from being content the President has fixed his eyes upon a second term of office as the chief object to be kept in view in reconstructing the broken States. The "Southern gentlemen" having confessed themselves vanquished and admitted him to their delectable society he has no further quarrel with them. He has as little sympathy to waste on "niggers" as the chivalry themselves. He believes in State rights. He knows very well that he lost the confidence of the Union masses to a very great extent when he got maudlin on the day of his inauguration. Besides, that party is morally certain to nominate a military hero for the Presidency in 1868. Johnson's only chance for succeeding himself in the office, therefore is to make a new party—a mosaic of Southern rebels, Northern Copperheads and such place hunting Union men as can be bought. As the rebels cannot hope to elect Lee, Davis or any other Confederate chief, they will readily promise to support Johnson, in consideration of his exceeding "magnanimity." The Seward clique, known as the firm of Weed, Morgan & Raymond, can be had at any time, for the control of the spoils, and Johnson has doubtless paid the price. The Secretary of State is content, because, under such an incompetent chief, the Prime Minister is virtually the President. It is idle to tell any intelligent man that William H. Seward would commend and applaud such a coarse diatribe as that recently delivered by Johnson, if he did not expect to make use of the author of it. The "Democracy" are to accept the leadership of Seward and Weed, and nominate Johnson for the Presidency in 1868, Lee, Davis or some other Confederate being placed on the ticket for the Vice Presidency, if the people will stand it. Seward is to bully England, without coming to blows, in order to secure the Fenian vote. In short, it would seem as if an Administration, placed in power to restore the Union upon the basis of liberty and justice, had converted the whole business of reconstruction into a Presidential campaign, and put himself in such a position that it dare not punish traitors and make treason odious. If this be a harsh speculation upon the probable motives of the President and his Secretary of State, it has at least a more substantial basis than their ascription of motives to the opponents of their policy.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION IN FRANCE.—The following article is from the Paris Journal des Debats of January 12th. It is rather a loud murmur against the Napoleonic policy:

What will become of Mexico? What can become of it? Great mystery hidden in the depths of the future! We seek not to penetrate it. Only we wish that Mexico had not become such an embarrassing matter to us, an obligation originating in a false point of honor, and we shall hold ourselves fortunate if, so far as France is concerned, our experience, commenced with loyalty and continued with courage, is conducted and ended without obstinacy. "In science, negative matters, patiently proved and regularly accepted, have as much importance as positive facts." It should be the same in politics.

We recognize, without hesitation, the grandeur of the problems which the Mexican question originates. One problem of political science is: What time do a people, half doing and half savage and consumed by anarchy, as are the people of Mexico, require to restore order and found its own Government? * * * * *

Another problem is: Is the European population of Mexico sufficiently numerous to create and sustain a purely European Government, or is the union of two races—the European race and the race of mixed blood—sufficiently progressed so that this nation, half Spanish and half Indian, may be capable of its part of creating and sustaining a Government analogous to its elements? The problems of political ethnology are not less interesting. Should the Latin race watch with jealousy the expansion of the Germanic race in America? Should it seek to counterbalance it at every price? Is it for us—that is, France—whose origin is half Latin and half Germanic, to forcibly maintain this difficult equilibrium? If the Latin race has the same power of expansion as the Germanic, let it show it by individual effort. Let it emigrate; let it colonize. It is by activity and endurance that each nation expands and occupies a larger portion of the space on which the sun shines. If, on the contrary, the Latin race has not the gift of expansion; if it is more domestic and less adventurous, is it to replace emigration by armed expeditions? Is it to make bouquets instead of colonies? Is it obliged to carry cannon over and everywhere, because it knows not how to manage the plowshare? What a sanguinary and devastating mission it takes to itself. And still again, is it for us—is it for France to be the instrument of this bloody vocation? In truth, we are worth more than that, and we cannot condemn ourselves to be Janissaries of Latinism.

They tell us of the aggrandizement and ambition of the United States, and of the terrible and mighty shock that is to occur between Europe and America. Europe was culpable and impolitic in not profiting by the aid which it found in us. Besides, it has abandoned us to ourselves from the beginning of the struggle. * * * *

After showing the impenetrable uncertainty which hangs over the future of Mexico despite the thousand ingenious theories and the thousand brilliant twistings given to it, let us try to see the serious and actual dangers which threaten French policy in America and which make us wish that our Government would take one or the other of these two resolutions—either to boldly augment our army of occupation in Mexico, in order to prepare against adjacent perils, or to take counsel as to the most suitable and most prompt means for the evacuation of a country where we are, despite ourselves, subjected to the alternative either of doing everything or doing nothing at all.

REBELLISM IN GEORGIA.—From a letter addressed to a prominent citizen in this city, says the Washington Chronicle of Feb. 3d, by a resident of Georgia, we are permitted to make the following extract which explains itself:

"If I had not occupied so much space about my own affairs, as well as doubting whether you would be interested, I would like to have given you some account of the state of affairs in the heart of secessia and negrodom. I have seen nothing in the papers that seems to expose the exact state of things. The difficulties, I apprehend, lie deeper than executive or legislative action. A Federal officer stationed here, much less one passing through the country, understand not the status of the people, because they are guarded in his presence. Moreover, any account will be colored more or less by the prejudices of the reporter. It is given but to a few to judge impartially, where their prejudices are concerned, and perhaps to fewer to report correctly what they do know and think. One thing is manifest: secession is (politically) stronger than before the war, and Unionism more under the ban of vox populi."

We have italicised the last sentence because we think it a proper explanation of the recent action of the Georgia Legislature in electing two United States Senators who are manifestly ineligible to the position.

ARIZONA ITEMS.—The Arizona Miner of February 14th says:

Gen McDowell illustrated his interest in Arizona and his determination to understand its topography by bringing with him and leaving here three gentlemen employed, on his order, by Col. Williamson, Chief Engineer of the Department of California, to enter into a topographical survey of the Territory and to prepare maps of all the principal districts for the use of the military.

The Indians of Arizona are saucy fellows. They have no respect for dignitaries. Not only do they pilfer from common mortals, but also from the chief enchants of the Pub Funes. Acting Governor McCormick has recently had no less than two horses stolen from him.

J Ross Browne who accompanied Gen McDowell in his expedition to Arizona, was taken sick at Soda Lake, and had to be left at Fort Mohave.

The great amount of snow and rain that fell in the months of December and January has supplied the country with water to an unparalleled extent, and will naturally lead to extensive placer mining spring.

As everybody may not yet know what a compound-interest note is, we copy the following description:

It is a note having three years to run, usually payable at the end of three years, on which no interest whatever is paid until the principal comes due but on which the accruing interest is compounded every six months. It is a legal tender for the principal only. A ten dollar note, therefore, is worth at maturity by compounding the interest, about eleven dollars and ninety five cents or nearly twelve dollars. The holder is entitled to present it at the Treasury and receive in lawful money in round numbers twelve dollars. By the law as it now stands, the note is at no period to be a legal tender for more than ten dollars, and so much is expressed on the face of the note itself.

It is a singular and creditable fact that, among all the guns sent to the Springfield armory for repairs, not one of the considerable number that have been bursted is a Springfield rifle.

THE MISSISSIPPI BLACK CODE.—The following extract from a letter by Judge Ford of Meridian, Miss. will show what a loyal man thinks of the new code of laws for Freedmen, recently enacted in that State.

This committee must have a most singular idea of what the convention meant, when they declared that the negro shall no longer be a slave but a freed man. In their narrow minded zeal to persecute and further degrade the poor helpless and already degraded negro, they have not hesitated to attempt to override the plainest provisions of the constitution, and outrage reason and humanity by proposing a code of laws which, if enacted by the Legislature as they have reported them, will reflect no credit upon the State, at home or abroad—and will have a strong tendency to perpetuate the reign of bayonets in the State and give the Abolitionists of the North the very best of arguments to urge in favor of carrying out their most ultra policy; and if the committee had in view the keeping of bayonets among us, and the keeping of our delegates out of Congress, they have so far done well—very well.

WATER WHEELS.

POWER PLEDGED EQUAL

TO THE

Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.

Prices Greatly Reduced! Prices Greatly Reduced!

LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works in the city of Portland and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

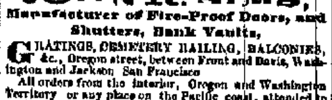

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it in the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases, of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure them, but inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.
